A Tip From Paris:

It's easy to add computer journaling to blank tags and labels! Just type your journaling and print it onto any piece of scratch paper. Cut out the tag or label you want to use, then lightly secure it centered over the journaled area of the scratch paper. Repositionable glue or Stencil Tape works great. Place the paper back in the printer and run it through a second time to print onto the cut-out. Carefully lift the cut-out from the paper and attach it to your project—it's as easy as that!

tag cut-out. With the tab on the left, write or computer journal "Easter" on the aqua textured tag. Lay a 2" length of blue sheer ribbon centered along the top edge of the horizontal photo's mat. Foam tape the tags so the tabs cover the loose ends of the ribbon, then add an egg brad to each tab.

4. Write or computer journal the subject's name and the page title on the blank label cut-outs, then add an egg brad to each. Foam tape the labels side-by-side, centered on the yellow textured strip at the bottom of the page. Add a light blue big brad to each tag's tab. Wrap a 7" length of blue sheer ribbon around the base of each big brad, knotting the tails together in the middle.
